

HIS PROMISE

By Paralee Eadie

Amidst chaos and government decrees
God set His star in the sky.
A census and political unrest
Would not His promise deny.

A promise of eternal life,
A promise of hope abounding,
A promise to never leave you,
A promise of love surrounding.

How often we let things around us
Blot out promises from above,
Living in chaos and unrest
Instead of the peace of His love.

Today, why not be like the Wise Men
Who sighted and followed God's star.
Look up, see the love of Jesus
Shining on you wherever you are.
