

IF YOU HAD A SON

By Paralee Eadie

If you had a son
And you owned the earth,
Would you choose a stable
As his place of birth?

If you had a son
And you were a king,
Would he be raised poor
Or have everything?

If you had a son
And had riches untold,
For just 30 coins
Would you let him be sold?

If you had a son
And you hated sin,
Would you dump all the sin
Of the world upon him?

If you had a son
And you reigned on high,
Would you let him be nailed
To a cross to die?

If you had a son
Could you hear him groan
As you turned your back,
Let him die alone?

If you had a son
Would you and he make
All of these sacrifices
For another's sake?

God had a Son!
