

SUCCESS

By Paralee Eadie

You've worked hard for your success.
You can rightly feel proud,
But before you begin to boast,
Consider how you've been endowed.

Success is not a one man job,
For you're an accumulation of
What other people have taught you
And what was given from Above.

So go ahead and strut your stuff,
Just remember this simple fact;
To the one who has been given much,
The same is expected back.
